BONUS ONE · HOW TO USE

Before You Start

This is the sheet you filled in during the Love Legacy Masterclass. Print it, and keep it somewhere you will actually find it again in thirty days.

- Do this with a pen. Not on your phone. Something happens in your handwriting that does not happen when you type, and you will see it yourself when you compare two months side by side.
- Answer for an ordinary week. Not the worst week you have had, and not the week you were both on holiday and everything felt easy.
- Answer what is true, not what you would like to be true. Nobody is going to read this. There is no version of this where a lower number is worth more than an honest one.
- It takes about six minutes. Give it six minutes when nobody is going to walk in.
- Do it again on the same date next month. The number on its own means very little. The number moving means everything.

THE SCALE

Score	What it means
0 to 3	This is rarely true for me.
4 to 6	This is true some weeks and not others.
7 to 8	This is true most of the time, and I have stopped even noticing it.
9 to 10	This is simply my normal now.

Watch for anything you score seven or eight.

That is where something has been going on so long it stopped feeling like a problem and started feeling like your life.

BONUS ONE · THE ASSESSMENT

The Eight Statements

Read each one once. Sit with it for three or four seconds. Then write the number.

Statement		Your score /10
1	We have the same argument on repeat, and I can predict how it ends before it starts.
2	I feel alone in the same room as him.
3	I know what I should say, and in the moment something else comes out.
4	I have stopped bringing things up, because it is not worth what follows.
5	I spend more energy managing his mood than living my own day.
6	I have quietly made myself smaller at home than I am anywhere else.
7	My children have seen a version of me I would not want them to copy.
8	When he goes quiet, I either chase him, or I go colder than he is.

BONUS ONE · YOUR BANDS

What Your Number Is Telling You

None of these four is good or bad. They describe how much of your marriage is currently being run by a pattern rather than by a choice.

0 TO 30

Most of the time you are still choosing. You notice the moment before you react, and often enough you do something other than the automatic thing. The work here is protecting that, because the pattern almost always creeps back during a stressful stretch, not during a calm one.

31 TO 55

Some rooms are still yours and some have quietly gone on autopilot. There is usually one specific area, money, his family, the evenings, bedtime with the children, where every conversation runs on rails. Find that one area. It is where all of your movement is available.

56 TO 75

The pattern is running most of the day. You can see it clearly afterwards, in the car, in the shower, at eleven at night, and almost never while it is happening. This is the most common range for the women who come to me, and it is also where the first real shift tends to arrive fastest, because there is so much of it to catch.

76 TO 100

Automatic has become normal. Not dramatic, usually. Just quiet. Managed. A version of you at home that is smaller than the one people meet everywhere else. Please read this carefully: a high score is not a verdict on your marriage and it is not a verdict on you. It is a measure of how long something has been left to run by itself, and it is the number that moves the most once somebody helps you see it.

If you are in a situation that involves violence, threats, or being controlled, none of this applies to you first.

Your safety comes before every piece of work in this sheet. In India you can call 181, the women's helpline, at any hour.

BONUS ONE · THE TWO TO WATCH

The Two Statements To Watch

If you only ever re-score two of the eight, make them these.

- › Statement 3. I know what I should say, and in the moment something else comes out.

This one measures the gap between what you know and what you actually do. Every technique you have ever tried was aimed at the knowing. This number is the doing. When this one moves, something real has changed in you, not just in your reading.

- › Statement 8. When he goes quiet, I either chase him, or I go colder than he is.

This one measures whether you are still reacting to his weather. It is the fastest of the eight to move, because it only needs one person, and that person is you.

A drop of one point on either of these is real. Do not wait for a drop of twenty before you allow yourself to count it. Nobody rewires a fifteen year pattern in a fortnight, and the women who eventually change everything are the ones who took the one point seriously.

ONE THING TO KNOW BEFORE YOUR SECOND MONTH

Some women see their score go up the second time. It usually does not mean things got worse. It normally means you got more honest, because a month of paying attention shows you things you were rounding down before. If that happens to you, write it down and keep going. The third month is the one that tells you the truth.

BONUS ONE · YOUR MONTHLY LOG

Your Monthly Log

Same date every month. Six months of this on one page will tell you more about your marriage than any conversation about it ever has.

Date	Score	St. 3	St. 8	The one thing that was different this month

Your score is not a measure of your marriage.

It is a measure of how automatic your marriage has become. Automatic is the thing that can be changed, and it is the only thing this sheet is looking at.
